My husband and I will be staying in Paris for 10 days which I feel will be a bit long for my husband in a " big city".. I am looking for different and exciting places we could visit for day visits (or maybe an overnight) other than the usual Versailles or Monet Gardens - I know we must include these in day visits. We will not have a car so will be relying on trains etc

Part of the Inside-Outside series this book gives useful information, which is suitable for adults and children alike, on the interesting historical sites of Paris. It features attractions such as Notre-Dame cathedral, the Paris Opera House and the Pompidou Centre.

Illustrations and brief text present some noted sights in Paris, including the Eiffel Tower, the Arch of Triumph, the Metro subway, and a puppet theater.

With her sweeping perspectives, vivid colors and abundant details, author and artist Roxie Munro portrays Paris, the City of Light, with respect for both its revered traditions and its modern panache. Seen from one angle and then another, the world's most beloved capital offers a wealth of treasures for children and travelers of all ages. The Tuileries Gardens with its gaily spinning carousel; a streamlined patisserie turning out artful pastries; the majestic Arc de Triomphe; and the vista it affords -- these are just some of the vibrant sites and setting to which Ms. Munro turns her gift for drama, pattern, and color. From the ultramodern Pompidou Center to an open-air market, from boats cruising the Seine to booksellers on its banks, this book is full of light and life.

By the time Timber Marlow is fifteen years old, she has already killed three men. Despite the bloody and violent nature of their deaths, Timber is hardly a murderer, at least not in the traditional sense of the word. She has lived her entire life as a cannibal within a cult tucked away in the San Bernardino Mountains called the Divinity of Feminine Reproach. She watches rituals where Divinity members are tied down and beheaded by their leader, Daddy Marlow. The Divinity keeps itself isolated from the Outside, which is the mainstream society beyond its invisible borders. When the opportunity presents itself, Timber escapes into the Outside, bearing witness to some dark and unsettling truths about the world around her and the integral role she plays in it. And no matter how long she stays away, Timber finds out the past isn't as far away as she thinks it is. In this debut novel, laced with scenes of horrific violence and uplifting humanity, Martin Lastrapes has written a one-of-a-kind story about love, friendship, sacrifice, and cannibalism.

Illustrations and brief text present all kinds of libraries, from bookmobiles and home libraries to the New York Public Library and the Library of Congress.

"Safe inside its shell, a baby bird prepares to brave the world. A spelunker descends into a wide and glittering cavern while fellow explorers cluster around a crack in the earth. Fire-red ants march busily around their anthill, oblivious of a hungry anteater waiting above ... This oversized [wordless] art book takes a unique approach to the concept of inside and outside, offering ... examples that will ... spark conversations about context and perspective"--Back cover.

An inspiring guide to creating stylish and livable outdoor spaces An outdoor room is an extension of the home—a space that can be used for entertaining, relaxing, cooking, playing, swimming, and more. In spaces large and small, outdoor rooms offer a retreat from daily life and a connection to nature. In Inside Outside, Linda O'Keefe—former creative director of Metropolitan Home—will inspire you to create an outdoor living space that offers an oasis of comfort and style. O'Keefe uses the language of interior design to inform her approach to exterior design, focusing on space, structure, movement, mood, and furniture. Inside Outside is filled with private gardens from North America and Europe that are inspiring and illustrative examples. From dramatic topiaries and black tulips in Massachusetts to the living wall in the courtyard of a Paris penthouse, fresh ideas permeate both the gardens found within this

ORPHAN, CLOCK KEEPER, AND THIEF, twelve-year-old Hugo lives in the walls of a busy Paris train station, where his survival depends on secrets and anonymity. But when his world suddenly interlocks with an eccentric girl and her grandfather, Hugo's undercover life, and his most precious secret, are put in jeopardy. A cryptic drawing, a treasured notebook, a stolen key, a mechanical man, and a hidden message from Hugo's dead father form the backbone of this intricate, tender, and spellbinding mystery.
